About the Artist

Subhasis Sabyasachi is a Graded musical instruments artist in All India Radio & ICCR. He has been working with Bamboo as a medium for various musical instruments and toys for the last 20 years. After thorough research, he developed multi-Bamboo instruments.

He is deeply concerned about the decline in the awareness of Bamboo as a multi-dimensional commodity of the people. Bamboo is a rural economic power for the people, of the people & by the people as well as strengthening the cultural heritage of our tribal society.

In this gallery, he has displayed his Bamboo Abstract artwork through photo frames; it's all about our Galaxy, theme - "sunrises from your doorstep" as well as making process pictures of his Bamboo instruments hanging on the walls; and finally, he has exhibited his Bamboo instruments miniature as well as Eco-friendly Indigenous musical toys for kids. He conveys the message to society to realize the value of this unique and important commodity.

This would be an opportunity for the realization of the wonders of bamboo music for the students, media, art fraternity, academicians, and the like.
